

Mr. Abhijit Sankar Ray

Mr. Abhijit Sankar Ray, an environmental planner by education, has been working in the urban sector for over two decades. His work has primarily been in urban governance, water supply/sanitation investments, urban affordable housing, urban land use planning, and slum upgrading sectors. He has led multiple Projects for various multilateral and bilateral agencies in partnership with state and national governments. Currently, he is working with The World Bank based out of their New Delhi office where he is leading multiple investment and advisory assignments.

